We're Better Together!

A Note From Mrs. Garcia

Many of my favorite sayings come from Yogi Berra, the famous catcher for the NY Yankees. Yogi's quotes often make more sense when we don't overthink them! This is my favorite: When you come to a fork in the road, take it! Simply evaluated, this is about taking a risk. The journey we travel individually is the reflection of the "forks in the roads" that we have taken. In other words, our forks include the risk we chose, the opportunity we seized, or the stepping aside to reconsider. Graduation season offers up a great time for self-reflection as we watch 6-year olds transform into First Graders, 8th Graders find their way around high school, high school seniors confidently stroll onto a college campus, enroll in a trade, or enlist in the military, and college graduates break through the application process to secure the job of a lifetime! Reflect - all this progress began with the choice of a school. Reflect - every moment of change instigates another change. Reflect - are we comfortable with change or do we play it safe? Do you take the fork in the road or do you avoid the fork by walking around it? To all our graduates and their biggest fans: Let the fork in the road become the avenue to discover new skills, new friends, new places, and new opportunities to share your spirit!

When you come to a fork in the road ~ take it!

Joy,
Mrs. Kathie Garcia
